GPRC Update – The Buddy Holly Story

Dear Great Pyrenees Friends,

Thank you again for the over the top response to our Thanksgiving Match fundraiser. No sooner did we wrap-up The Match before yet another crisis hit. Our experienced group once again responded with care and speed. This is the Buddy Holly Story.

Last week we were contacted by the Douglasville Animal Shelter that they had a young male PYR who's front left foot, they believed, was caught in a trap. The injury was so severe, they planned to euthanize him but a local vet advised he would remove the leg asap if a rescue would take him following the surgery.

We viewed the gruesome photos of the foot that revealed the exposed bones and three of the toes were virtually severed. Our mission immediately became to not only save the dog, but also to save his leg. We indicated we would take the PYR NOW. Our star transporter, Kevin, was on his way as we forwarded the x rays to our Dr. Bonny. Dr. Bonny felt she could reconstruct the pad and save one of the four toes. We named our PYR Buddy Holly and the next morning Dr. Bonny performed her surgical wizardry.

One and a half year old Buddy Holly, who is also heartworm positive, has been an enormous hit with Dr. Bonny's entire practice as displayed in the video. He will also lead a totally normal and healthy life with the lucky family that adopts him. Buddy is now available for adoption.

Thank you to our wonderful team as this is another example of the group's ability to move quickly in a crisis.

GPRC 2021 has been a big and successful year. It has also been a tough year with many medically compromised PYRS and some challenging PYRS to place in their pyrfect forever homes. If there is one thing we've learned, it is Gentle Giants are resilient and we will never give up in our mission to find the right home for the right PYR. We enthusiastically look forward to 2022 and, with your continued support, GPRC will rescue as many PYRS in need in the southeast as is humanly possible.

We hope all have a safe, healthy and wonderful holiday.
